Art Unit: 1755

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-19, drawn to a method of forming a shaped article of sintered fly ash, classified in class 264, subclass 603+.
- II. Claims 20-22, drawn to a building element comprising sintered fly ash, classified in class 106, subclass Dig1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as a foam insulation material, an aggregate for concrete for multiple uses for roadmaking, sidewalks, or any concrete usage requiring aggregate, decorative article, etc. and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1755

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have ^{and search} acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification[^], restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Scott W. Kelley on 8/3/05 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
